$49 Free Skiing with G- Pass
There is no greater deal in the ski industry than a G-Pass, which allows you to purchase unguided tickets at the discounted rate of $39/day for the entire unguided season. This is a great way to get inexpensive unguided skiing at one of the largest ski areas in the US. You also get the perks of one day of FREE SKIING at A-Basin, Monarch (Monarch: blacked-out Dec 26-31), and 2 days at Durango Mountain Resort. The G Pass is non-transferable and non-refundable.

Our goal is to open as much terrain as possible to unguided skiing every day (based on snow safety). The unguided boundary constantly shifts around the mountain as the snowpack changes. Guided skiers during the unguided season are allowed access into certain areas of the mountain that are not quite ready for unguided skiers (these areas are constantly shifting around the mountain as well.). There may be pockets of hazard or temperature fluctuations that make these areas better suited for guided or unguided skiing on any given day. There is no arbitrary boundary between the two which allows a tremendous amount of terrain to be open for both unguided and guided skiing every day. On any given day there is usually more unguided expert terrain open at Silverton Mountain than any other ski area in North America.
